

The Sorrow Tear

By Randal S. Doaty

All words to share escape me,
My heart is broken too.
Sorrow overcomes me,
I don't know what to do.

I want to share your burden,
To lift this heavy load.
To walk beside in darkest times,
Grief's solitary road.

I prayed to God for healing –
A miracle for you.
I struggle with His answer,
But faith will see me through.

I join with many others,
Sharing heartfelt tears.
Please know you are surrounded,
By those who love you dear.

I offer you this promise,
That I shall always keep.
A friendship you can count on,
When life just gets too deep.

